WORLD WIDE NOTARY AND PENNSYLVANIA ASSOCIATION OF NOTARIES FORM ALLIANCE FOR COUNTRY'S FIRST ONLINE NOTARIAL JOURNAL

Vernon, TX—(01/07/2006) World Wide Notary (WWNotary), a leading provider of electronic notary products and services, announced that it has formed an alliance with Pittsburgh-based Pennsylvania Association of Notaries (PAN) to provide WWNotary's DigaSign Journal, a platform-independent, Internet-based notarial recordkeeping system for the state's more than 75,000 notaries public.

The agreement enables USNA to provide an electronic solution for notaries who wish to keep an electronic journal. DigaSign Journal accepts manual entries by the notary, ensures compliance with state journal requirements, stores the records on a secure Internet server, and produces the journal on demand for the notary to review, print or export in Adobe Portable Document Format (PDF)

PAN is also offering DigaSign Journal to notaries who are anticipating the next step to electronic notarization. WWNotary offers the DigaSign Suite of applications that allows users in any industry—such as real estate, government, law, insurance, title and banking—to add their unique biometric signatures to documents transacted with DigaSign's digital signature and encryption technology.

"DigaSign Journal is the logical next step in electronic notary journals, and PAN is proud to partner with a leader in eNotarization technology," said PAN's president, Marc Aronson. "Notaries may now keep electronic journals that offer seamless transitions to eNotarization with other DigaSign applications. At the same time, the notary who wants only to keep an electronic journal can easily and efficiently do just that." PAN has worked closely with WWNotary during the last two years to ensure that DigaSign Journal complies with Pennsylvania notary law requirements. DigaSign Journal, which is updated online in real time, will soon be offered to notaries in other states through PAN's sister organization, the United States Notary Association (USNA), at www.enotary.org.
